I, _____ ("Client") agree to enter into this agreement with CANYON VIEW RANCH ("Canyon View") in order to provide the following training for my dog:

- ☐ By Day Training for _____ days at $50.00/day (plus boarding)
- ☐ 4-week On Leash Basic Obedience Training at $4,200.00
includes boarding and private lessons
- ☐ 4-week Off Leash Basic Obedience Training at $4,200.00
includes boarding and private lessons
- ☐ 8-week On and Off Leash Obedience Training at 8,000.00

In addition, I understand that Canyon View, to the best of its ability, will address the following behavioral issues concerning my dog:

| <input type="checkbox"/> Housebreaking | <input type="checkbox"/> Jumping | <input type="checkbox"/> Counter Surfing |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Aggressive behavior with other dogs | <input type="checkbox"/> Chewing | <input type="checkbox"/> Play Biting |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Aggressive behavior with people | <input type="checkbox"/> Digging | <input type="checkbox"/> Barking |
| | <input type="checkbox"/> Poop Eater | |

Other Behavioral Issues:

FOUR-WEEK OBEDIENCE TRAINING:

Canyon View's Four-week On-Leash Training Program includes teaching the dog the five basic obedience commands: sit, down, stay, heel, and come. Off Leash Training is an advanced training program using voice commands and hand signals, and teaching the dog to respond from a distance without using a leash.

BEHAVIORAL ISSUES:

Behavioral issues are also addressed in Canyon View's Four-Week Programs. We do not allow chewing, jumping, digging, play biting, and barking. Canyon View trainers will teach the dog commands to aid in stopping these behaviors.

AGGRESSION ISSUES:

Training for aggressive dogs is also offered by Canyon View. Results with aggression issues may vary. This behavior can often be corrected or the behavior significantly controlled, however, Canyon View cannot guarantee the dog's aggression issues will be completely eliminated and/or resolved. Canyon View reserves the right to refuse training for any dog that may be overtly aggressive.

HOUSEBREAKING:

Housebreaking is also offered, but successful results may vary depending on the dog and follow through from the Client(s).

GUARANTEES and EXCEPTIONS:

Canyon View guarantees its Four-Week On-Leash Program for the life of the dog. If at any time the dog stops responding to commands given by the Client(s), Canyon View will re-evaluate the dog. At the conclusion of the evaluation, if the dog does not respond to the trainer's commands Canyon View will provide retraining for the dog, free of charge. Usually dogs do not forget the commands they are taught, and often additional training with the Client(s) may be needed rather than with the dog. If Canyon View determines the dog is responsive to the trainer's commands but not to the Client(s), then brush up lessons at the Ranch will be offered to the Client(s), free of charge.

Due to so many variables, including the Client's role in the dog's behavior, Canyon View does not guarantee results in correcting housebreaking, aggression, or other behavioral issues such as chewing, digging, jumping, play biting, and barking. Additional fees may be charged for retraining, however, our trainers are available by phone or for private consultation at the ranch as a constant source of information, free of charge.

Canyon View does not offer guarantees on the Four-Week Off-Leash Program, however, our trainers will provide follow up training lessons at the Ranch to the Client(s), free of charge.

CLIENT'S RESPONSIBILITY:

Training your dog to obey commands and exhibit appropriate behavior constitutes only one part of the training process. The second part involves your active participation as the dog's owner(s). Your involvement and commitment to this process is critical to the success of any training. This includes attending private lessons and learning proper communication and handling techniques to ensure successful long-term results.

For all four-week programs, Canyon View requires that at least one member of the household attend a minimum of three (3) private lessons prior to the dog's return home.

After the dog returns home, Client understands that the dog may have a period of adjustment, transition, and/or regression. To overcome this potential of regression, it is essential that all members of the household strictly adhere to the trainer's instructions, implement training methods consistently, and work with the dog on a daily basis as recommended.

Successful results are dependent on the client's consistency, diligence, and continued practice with the dog after the training program is completed. Continued success is contingent upon the client's ongoing participation, therefore Canyon View does not provide refunds for completed training services.

After the training process when the dog has returned home, Client is aware of the continuing inherent risks of injury or death to Client(s), the dog, any other person(s), and dogs of any third party that are involved including without limitation risks due to dog bite or infectious disease.

Client agrees to pay all resulting injury, losses, and damages suffered or incurred, and to defend, indemnify, and hold harmless Canyon View, its owners, trainers or agents from any and all resulting claims, demands, lawsuits, losses, costs of expenses, including attorney's fees.

Furthermore, the Client agrees that non-compliance with the recommendations of Canyon View's trainer(s) constitutes non-liability to Canyon View and trainer(s).

b. MEDIATION. Client and Canyon View agree to mediate any dispute or claim arising between them out of this Agreement, or any resulting transaction, before resorting to arbitration. Mediation fees, if any, shall be divided equally among the parties involved. If, for any dispute or claim to which this paragraph applies, any party commences an action without first attempting to resolve the matter through mediation or refuses to mediate after a request has been made, then that party shall not be entitled to recover attorney's fees even if they would otherwise be available to that party in such action.
